Report information:	Visitor origin - Month of September 2009
Time Period of Report:	From Sept. 1 until Sept. 30, 2009

Comments:

We've been building, updating, tweaking and testing the website on a daily basis so we apologize to anyone who tried to visit when the site was being uploaded to our server with new changes. It got 50% bigger and 90% faster.

Some days, the site was uploaded several times with new modifications so if you visited and found certain things not working, we were likely remedying the problem "live" during your visit. There were over 300 modifications made.

It got to the point where we were sending e-mails to our growing list of regular visitors instructing them to hit the refresh button during their tour of the site.

By September 30, 2009, the website was faster and "live" with numerous new features we've added thus far. So aside from some great features we're still designing, some updates and the on-going "after-thought-modifications", our website is fully functional and substantially complete.

New features will be added "live" and completely operational as we promised over 250 early visitors who e-mailed us and asked that we keep things up and running, even during construction. A majority of these visitors had either sent a web-link to an associate so they could visit, or had bookmarked the site with the intention of making several repeat visits to complete the entire tour. We even have a few "hardcore" fans who visit the site every couple of days just to experience the evolution of new features and improvements. You rock!
